

6

Essential Strategies

For

College Admissions Success

What Families Can Do to Ready Their Children

HIGH SCHOOL

DEFINING DIRECTION & STRATEGY

What Families Can Do Right Now

High school is a pivotal time for growth and preparing for the future with intention. If your child is college-bound, it is time to examine high school choices and align effort and activities with college in mind. Use this checklist as a practical guide for what to focus on now.

1 Strengthen Academic Positioning

- Help your student choose courses that align with goals and interests
- Aim for strong academic performance across all subjects

2 Build Strong Study & Time Management Skills

- Find routines and productivity habits that actually work
- Prepare for increasing academic rigor and extracurricular leadership roles

3 Deepen Interests and Engagement

- Pursue activities with genuine intention and commitment
- Look for opportunities to make a positive impact in chosen areas of interest

4 Prioritize Impact

- Focus on meaningful involvement in a few key activities
- Reduce Unnecessary Distractions

5 Encourage Ownership and Accountability

- Support student-led planning and decision-making
- Encourage your student to manage their deadlines and personal responsibilities

6 Begin Strategic Planning to Avoid Panic

- Be mindful of testing and application deadlines
- Think ahead! - You don't want to make rushed decisions

HIGH SCHOOL: REFINING DIRECTION & STRATEGY

What Families Should Be Doing Right Now

Encourage regular reflection and growing self-awareness

Let us help you put your child on the path to success.

Schedule your first meeting here:

Schedule My Consultation

www.teameduconsult.com · info@teameduconsult.com
(909) 660-2367 · (917) 763-2387